Restaurant Review

More Than a Café

Although there are only a small number of menu items, the variety is huge. You can choose between Cornish hen, pork, sirloin steak, chicken, salmon and vegetarian pasta dishes. Don't be fooled by the size of the menu: it has a niche for whatever your appetite is craving!

On the Menu

The menu is strongly influenced by South American cuisine. Examples of this influence are found in the shrimp cevish appetiser, the Peruvian Butifarra pork sandwich, and the Chilean salmon served with jicama slaw and drizzled with a miso dressing. For dessert, why not try the scrumptious vanilla creme brulee with a crunchy caramel topping, or plunge into the mango sorbet! This tropical sensation is sweet and refreshing. These delightful desserts are the perfect way to end a meal.

Breakfast is also available at Eden Café, featuring fare like the veggie omelette with a side salad, a sausage and egg combo, and a surprising salmon twist! Complement your meal with a good sized glass of OJ and your choice of Latin American coffees or espressos!

waitress to the bottomless coffee cup, you'll be blown away by the fantastic service. This place is a perfect location to enjoy a light meal with a close friend or to bring a date. The music is smooth, relaxing and never so loud that it interferes with conversation.

True to its name, the food here is from paradise. The fare is light, healthy, delicious and affordably priced.

I enjoyed a very simple but delicious lunch last week. It was a summer salad of tomatoes and goat's cheese in a scallion vinaigrette with a lovely multi-grain roll. The dressing had just the right amount of tang to balance out the goat's cheese and it was a wonderful thing on a hot summer's day. Both the lunch and the dinner menus had lots of good looking things to try next time. The service was also good and the decor is sleek and refined.

Featured in Gay Cook's Column in the Ottawa Citizen, this little cafe has excellent excellent food! Now owned by a Peruvian woman who graduated from Ottawa's own Cordon Bleu cooking school, the Ceviche, Creme Brulee, and specials of the day are extraordinary! Far from a coffee shop, this is a great dining experience. :)
